

2004 Excellence in Structural Engineering Awards

Outstanding Award Winners in each of the categories included:

Best Use of New Technologies in New Construction: Michael Kalin, Nabih Youssef & Associates for Ahmanson Hall (Skirball Cultural Center)

Best Use of Conventional Technologies in a Building Retrofit: Said Hilmy, Integrated Design Services, Inc. for Seismic Retrofit of the Liberal Arts Building, Cerritos College

Best Use of New Technologies in Retrofit/Alteration: Saiful Islam, Saiful/Bouquet, Inc. for the 8920 Wilshire Seismic Retrofit

Special-Use Structures: Janah Risha, Risha Engineering Group, Inc. for The Terminal

Best Historic Preservation: Eric Stovner, Thornton-Tomasetti Engineers for the Western Metal Supply Company Building

Award Winners in each of the categories included:

Best Use of Conventional Technologies in a Building Retrofit: Said Hilmy, Integrated Design Services, Inc. for the Seismic Retrofit of the Social Sciences Building, Cerritos College

Best Use of New Technologies in Retrofit/Alteration: Rami Elhassan, Integrated Design Services, Inc. for the Seismic Retrofit of UCI Irvine Hall

Best Historic Preservation: Saiful Islam, Saiful/Bouquet, Inc. for the USC North Science Renovation